

Coffee Morning - 3 May 2020

Literary Quiz!

The May Coffee Morning was planned on a literary theme as a fundraiser for Tearfund. We won't meet in person but while you are enjoying refreshments, freshly baked or bought, you might enjoy a literary, cryptical quiz.

There are no prizes to be won but if you are particularly pleased with your score, or have any comments, do please email the office (standrew.hertford@btinternet.com) for an honourable mention! Answers will be circulated next week and published on the church website's Coffee Morning page.

Phoning a friend or relative to discuss clues is warmly encouraged and highly recommended!

Name that book, spot that author:

Each clue describes an author, book or both!

1. The intriguing, nocturnal occurrence with the canine
2. Master of the midges
3. The supremely voracious butterfly-to-be
4. A sour lady writing the Mystery of the Past
5. Road trip of deities from every culture and continent
6. Big Brother is watching you
7. The big cat who arrived for refreshments
8. I am wild but the painting is getting older, not me
9. Verdant ovoids and prosciutto

10. Clues from the Renaissance painter by Monsieur Marron
11. The location of the wild rumpus
12. Offences and Consequences
13. Capture one less than 23
14. The story of rabbit rock
15. Quarantine for a century
16. The temperature at which paper burns
17. A well-mannered chap in the capital of Russia
18. Pale dentures
19. We are setting off on a teddy chase
20. Martial Acts and Tranquility
21. A big cat with a boy on a boat

If you have enjoyed this quiz, please consider making a donation towards Tearfund <https://www.tearfund.org/>, the charity we had hoped to fundraise for this month.
